Communities must defeat terror threat

BY CARL MUNGAZI
carl.mungazi@lutononsunday.co.uk

COMMUNITIES will ultimately defeat terrorism, said Bedfordshire's Police and Crime Commissioner (PCC) Olly Martins after four men were jailed over a bomb plot in Luton.

Mr Martins was speaking after a group of men were sentenced to more than 40 years for planning an attack on the Territorial Army base on Marsh Road.

Mr Martins, who serves as a soldier at the base, congratulated the security services for foiling the plot but said stopping the radicalisation of 'vulnerable people' was the job of the whole community.

On Thursday Zahid Iqbal, Mohammed Sharfaraz Ahmed, Umar Arshad, and Syed Hussain were sentenced to a total of 44-and-a-half years for the plot. See story page 2.

They had also talked about attacking MI5, the US Air Force, the English Defence League and The Mall shopping centre.

PCC Martins said: "As I am a soldier at the Territorial Army Centre in Leagrave I would clearly like to congratulate the security services on their vigilance. But what's really important is that we should not allow a whole community to be stigmatised by the activities of a miniscule extremist minority."

He also said the four would-be terrorists were 'not representative of the local Muslim community or of the religion of Islam' and he knew that the Muslim community wanted to 'root out violent extremism'.

The PCC added: "The key message here is that while the security services can foil plots such as this, we need to stop vulnerable people being radicalised and getting to the point of becoming terrorist plotters in the first place.

"That requires vigilance by the local community and co-operation with the authorities.

"It is communities rather than the security services that will defeat terrorism."

Representatives of the Muslim community have also echoed the commissioner's words. Zafar Khan, from the Luton Council of Faiths, said 'it undermined 'the great working taking place in Luton' and needed to be tackled by the whole town.

Qadir Baksh, from the Islamic Centre in Luton where the plot ring-leader Zahid Iqbal used to worship, said Iqbal had left after disagreeing with the centre's views.

He said: "First and foremost we should not label the whole of the Muslim community with this example.

"This type of extreme example exists in every community.

"The IRA did all sorts of things but you can't label the Irish community because of that and the same principle can be used for Muslims.

"We knew one of them, he was a worshipper in our Mosque but disagreed with our moderate political views so he left.

"It's important to understand that a mosque is no different to a church. It's a place of worship and you don't know who is coming to worship there but when we come across those views we challenge them and try to show them the right way.

"I would say that the town has a problem the same way other towns that have a large Muslim population do."

CREATIVE: Michelle Reader with her final life-sized sculptures of a woman and a child. All items used to create the masterpieces were found at the shopping centre

Artist Michelle turns old waste into new art

TAKEAWAY wrappers, carrier bags and clothes hangers – all items that usually get thrown away. But they were given a new lease of life at The Mall shopping centre.

On Friday, artist Michelle Reader was commissioned to undertake a unique recycling project.

Using waste materials and discarded items found at The Mall, Michelle created a bespoke life-size sculpture during the course of the day.

Starting with just a wooden frame and a balloon in the morning, she was able to use the items provided to her to create an impressive sculpture of a woman and child.

The finished artwork will remain on display at The Mall, before being donated to local charity, Keech Hospice Care.

The initiative was part of the shopping centre's drive to go green and encourage customers to recycle their waste.

The project proved popular, with shoppers stopping in the Central Square to see just what Michelle was up to.

Mark Broadhead, general manager at The Mall Luton, said: "As part of our ongoing campaign to reinforce the importance of being environmentally friendly, we were excited to welcome Michelle to the centre.

"We hope her visit has encouraged our customers to reuse their home waste and be more considerate of the environment."

Terror plot gang jailed for more than 40 years

JULIA SUTTON
editor@lutononsunday.co.uk

FOUR al-Qaeda inspired terrorists who plotted to blow up a Territorial Army base with a bomb strapped to a remote-controlled car have been jailed for more than 40 years.

The Luton-based group, jailed on Thursday, consisting of Zahid Iqbal, 31, Mohammed Sharfaraz Ahmed, 25, Umar Arshad, 24 and Syed Hussain, 22, wanted to blow up the TA base on Marsh Road.

They had also discussed attacking MI5, the US Air Force, the English Defence League and their local shopping centre.

Mr Justice Wilkie QC jailed both Iqbal and Ahmed for 16 years and three months each. Arshad was sentenced to six years and nine months, and Hussain was jailed for five years and three months.

Ringleader Iqbal helped organise for the group to travel to Pakistan for extremist training through an al-Qaeda contact he had there.

Fellow plotter Ahmed made several trips to Snowdonia and the Brecon Beacons to prepare for conditions in the mountains of Pakistan and Afghanistan.

But security services bugged their cars and overheard married father-of-two Iqbal suggesting driving a toy car with explosives under the gates of the TA base.

Iqbal originally planned to send extremist followers abroad, but turned his attention to UK targets after losing contact with his terrorist handler in Pakistan.

TARGET: The TA base on Marsh Road

Iqbal

The pair recruited and radicalised Ahmed's friend Arshad, 24, and Hussain. The homes of all four terrorists were raided just days before the tenth anniversary of 9/11, and they admitted a joint charge of preparing for terrorism.

Judge Wilkie QC ordered 13 charges of having extremist material against the defendants to lie on file.

Station entrance now open to commuters

THE new northern entrance to Luton Airport Parkway station has been opened following a formal ceremony on Friday morning.

It was opened to rail passengers by Luton South MP Gavin Shuker who was joined by other political leaders, staff and business representatives.

The new facility provides a covered waiting area, ticket machine, disabled access and entry to all platforms via the existing pedestrian platform bridge. Covered bicycle parking is also provided.

WERE YOU 'EGGED' FROM VEHICLE?

POLICE are keen to hear from people who had eggs thrown at them from a car.

Two men in a silver Peugeot convertible car were stopped by off duty police officers as they drove up the A6 from Luton town centre towards Streatley at about 7pm last Sunday, after throwing eggs at members of the public.

Unfortunately for the occupants of the vehicle, they did not realise a car travelling behind contained the off duty officers, who eventually were able to draw level and flag the convertible down.

The two men, both white and in their twenties, were arrested and taken into custody.

Investigating officer Dominique Bell would like anyone else who was hit to call 01582 394488.

HAVE SAY ON FUTURE OF LIBRARIES

TWO public meetings have been arranged to discuss the future of Luton's library service.

With the consultation coming to an end, Luton Borough Council is giving residents a final chance to have their say on two separate proposals that will affect Luton's libraries, on Tuesday, April 23.

The first meeting is scheduled for 2-4pm at Futures House in Marsh Farm, with the second taking place 7-9pm at Luton Central Library in St George's Square.

Councillor Mohammed Ashraf said: "Due to cuts in council funding we cannot continue the libraries service in its present form."

NUT AGAINST GOVE SCHOOL PLANS

THE National Union of Teachers (NUT) has rejected the notion of a longer day and shorter holidays for children as proposed by education secretary, Michael Gove.

Dave Mingay spokesperson for the NUT in Luton said: "Michael Gove's logic on this issue is fundamentally flawed. Children in the UK already have the shortest summer holidays and spend more time in classrooms than other Western countries.

"The idea that children traditionally have long holidays because of agriculture is a misconception that has been disproven many times over.

"Children need time to be children, explore the world and spend time with their parents."

Row over faith school buses hits full throttle

BY LAUREN ARCHELL
lauren.archell@lutononsunday.co.uk

PARENTS at Cardinal Newman say that they have been left 'frustrated' by the lack of information given to them over the plans to cut buses for faith schools at a meeting this week.

Held at the school on Thursday evening, parents had the chance to question Luton Borough Council leader Hazel Simmons and other representatives from the authority about the proposals.

Many concerns about the cuts were raised, including the increased cost of travel and fears that the buses would stop running the route to the school completely if the number of pupils using the service decreased because they couldn't afford it.

However, the panel was unable to categorically state how much the bus may cost per day, with Cllr Simmons adding: "I don't think the bus services will stop, people will still use them."

At a full council meeting on Tuesday it was agreed that the authority would consider an amendment made by the Liberal Democrats. That would leave the free school transport in place for existing Cardinal Newman School pupils, but require a 50 per cent contribution to the cost from new pupils starting at the school from September.

CONCERNED: A parent addresses the council panel

It has also been suggested that a one-off subsidy of £420k will be split between the Luton schools affected, with a very small proportion retained to facilitate a hardship fund for pupils currently in receipt of free denominational transport to an out of borough school.

After the meeting, parent Antoinette Kotula, said: "Parents have been left frustrated with the complete lack of knowledge shown by the council.

"There were no specific facts about how much the buses would cost or how many pupils would have to use bus to make it viable for Arriva to run it. We are aware of the amendment and talk of a subsidy but we are not negotiating."

Cllr Simmons said: "We have been investigating a number of proposals and have been seeking views from the school, parents and bus operators so that we can consider what impact the proposals will have.

"I must stress that no decision has been made, but should the proposals advance, the council would work with parents and operators with a view to securing the best possible solution."

Choir wow the nation on TV show

INCREDIBLE Luton-based choir, Gospel Singers Icognito, are busy preparing for the second round of Britain's Got Talent after impressing all four judges in their first appearance.

The 13-strong gospel choir say they have been 'overwhelmed' with support following their performance on the top-rated show last Saturday, which Simon Cowell branded "seriously fantastic".

Patrick George, pastor at the Breath of Life Ministries Church in Dunstable, who led the performance said: "We have lots of ideas up our sleeves for the next round of the competition, but everything is a secret at the moment!

"We are working very hard, and will do everything we can to progress in this competition.

"We just hope that local people will back and support us too."

Mad as Hatters! Boater is back in fashion at school

A SCHOOL in Luton has decided to bring back the girls' straw boater hat as part of the uniform.

King's House Preparatory School and Nursery will bring back the hat at the start of the summer term.

School Principal, Dr Andrew Cook, said: "Not only is the straw boater hat synonymous with the town and indeed Luton Town Football Club, it also represents the independent school tradition and academic standing that King's House strives for."

Luton-based hat manufacturer Olney Headwear will supply the straw boater.

The new hat was launched by a group of King's House pupils at Luton Town Football Club. They were joined by Hatters' stars Matt Robinson and Steve McNulty and hat maker Andrew Olney.

Student wants to inspire youngsters

carl.mungazi@lutonsunday.co.uk

A BUDDING writer, who needs £1,400 to have a book published, says he is trying to inspire other young people to do more.

Year eight student Amani Faris pictured, 12, of Leagrave Road, has written 'Fire Heart', a story about two brothers separated at birth who meet again in the world of illegal street racing.

But a lack of funds means he is currently unable to take the book further. He has contacted a self-publishing company Author House, who say they would publish his work for £1,400 and is hoping to find a sponsor to help.

Amani said: "Nowadays youth do not have that big a part to play in society and don't really socialize with anyone else apart from themselves.

"Once upon a time I was the same kind of guy but since I started writing this story I have had a lot of time to think about a lot of things.

He added: "I want to show other youth that they can do something with their lives instead of lazing around doing nothing."

Villagers will fight approved site plan

BY LAUREN ARCHELL
lauren.archell@lutononsunday.co.uk

RESIDENTS in Barton-le-Clay have vowed to battle on after a plan to put traveller pitches in the village was approved by Central Bedfordshire Council for submission to the Secretary of State.

The site, on Faldo Road, is one of seven which has been short-listed for gypsy and traveller accommodation, following a council vote on Thursday night. At the meeting, nine representations were made by members of the public against the site in Barton.

However, 37 councillors voted in favour of the plan as a whole, with 11 voting against.

Councillor Ian Shingler, who represents the village, said: "There is a sense of injustice and a feeling that people were not listening.

"The residents are currently compiling a dossier, which includes noise and wildlife assessments that have been carried out professionally."

However, Nigel Young, executive member for sustainable communities, said: "The support by council doesn't amount to a decision on any of the sites – it simply means that it supports the publication of the full plan and 'shortlist' of sites for public consultation and submission."

The public consultation will begin in May.

Success for burglary operation as police charge 11

FOLLOWING a series of dawn raids at properties in Luton, 11 people have been charged with offences.

Bedfordshire Police simultaneously executed 40 search warrants on Monday morning, as part of Operation Sabre – an initiative to tackle burglary and the handling of stolen goods.

Those charged include, Genghis Khan, 30, of Hart Lane, Luton, for the possession of false identity documents and supplying an article for the use in fraud, Damian Allen, 29, of Lamers Road, Luton, for converting criminal property, and supplying articles for use in fraud and Kevin McFarlane, 38, of Dorrington Close, Luton, for two counts of supplying crack cocaine.

Three other people were released on conditional police bail pending further enquiries. One person was taken to hospital after arrest and remains there, still in police custody.

Chief Constable Alf Hitchcock, who was on the ground as the warrants were executed, said: "There has been a significant reduction in burglary offences across the county.

"Crimes associated with burglary such as handling stolen goods are also an issue that we are determined to address."

- For full details about the 11 charged, visit our website www.luton-dunstable.co.uk.

Jail for man involved in near fatal shooting

BY JULIA SUTTON
editor@lutononsunday.co.uk

A 23-YEAR-OLD Luton man has been jailed for 29 years for the part he played in a revenge shooting.

James Campbell, 23, of Wellington Street, Luton had accompanied another man who was armed with a weapon used to shoot Mohammed Yasin Khan after they broke into his home.

The man who organised the shooting, Fesar Khiaq, of Yarmouth Road, Watford, was jailed for 35 years.

Khiaq, 27, put together the plan to exact revenge for an attack on his older brother.

Before sentence was passed on Monday at St Albans Crown Court, Judge Stephen Gullick was told of the terrible, life-changing injuries Mr Khan, now 66, had suffered.

Following the shooting at his home in Watford in the early hours of October 27, 2011, he was left with a wound the size of a 50-pence piece to his neck.

Pellets from the blast also entered his brain and he suffered a stroke. As a result he has been left paralysed down his left side, his speech has been affected and he is unable to walk.

GUILTY: James Campbell was jailed

From being an active man who would visit his mosque and walk his dog, he now has to be lifted in and out of bed and is doubly incontinent, needing constant care from his family.

Passing sentence on Khiaq the judge told him his actions 'represented a calculated act of revenge'.

Khiaq, a father of a young child, had ordered the shooting of Mr Khan at his home in Hodges Way because his son, Ausman, had been acquitted at St Albans Crown Court just days earlier of a charge of attempting to murder Khiaq's older brother, Abid Hussain.

Khiaq of Yarmouth Road, Watford and Campbell, appeared for sentence after a jury found them guilty on Friday, April 12 of conspiring to murder.

The judge said the sentences had to demonstrate to those thinking about taking the law into their own hands that lengthy jail terms would follow.

Investigating officer, Detective Inspector Sharn Basra, of Hertfordshire Police, said: "This verdict has been the result of months of dedicated hard work from officers on the Bedfordshire and Hertfordshire Major Crime unit and officers in Watford who have all worked to bring this case to court and I would like to thank them for their dedication.

"The verdicts and sentences passed indicate the severity of these men's cowardly actions for the terrifying and painful ordeal they subjected their victim to on that night in October 2011."

Three other men, Anthony Francis, 30, who at the time was living in Charter Place, Watford, Matthew Seddon, 28, also of Charter Place, Watford, and Alex Myers, 21, of Dumfries Street in Luton were all found not guilty of conspiracy to murder.

Thatcher has place in history

SIR – Steve Lowe stated that he couldn't find anything nice to say about Baroness Thatcher, but surely one of the reasons why she won three general elections is that she was a politician of conviction, unlike the current lot who seem to form policies mostly by opinion polls.

She did break the stranglehold of the unions on the economy and help to end the Cold War.

I nursed her mother-in-law when she was leader of the Opposition, and she felt that Margaret should have stayed at home and looked after the children, who did suffer because of her determination to succeed in her political career.

She did care passionately about this country and wasn't afraid to take unpopular decisions.

This is why she will be remembered as a great Prime Minister with her place in history secure.

Pam Bree,
West Hill Road, Luton

High Town must see action

SIR – I wish through your letters page to redress the imbalance regarding High Town and the very successful High Town Against Prostitution campaign.

Firstly the petition against the High Town councillors (Andrew Malcolm and Roxanna Whittaker) was raised because we had explored every avenue and had got nowhere!

Over the years there have been many meetings, with people making heart-breaking pleas of what they have had to endure and live with daily. We were ignored.

You are talking about hundreds of people whose lives are blighted by vice and have their health endangered by the litter left.

People have to clean up before their children wake up, or can't take rubbish to the bin chute for fear of who will be inside them. Is this living?

We have and do willingly co-operate with the police. Hundreds of calls have been made, but it is the council and councillors who turn the deaf ear and blind eye.

There has been consultations, visits, phone calls, photographic evidence, and pleas for help, while the councillors pay attention to the prostitutes and not to us who elected them.

Shahzad Khadam - High Town Against Prostitution, Luton

King Rat is making sense

SIR - I wanted to write and say how much I enjoyed the letter written by the 'King Rat' (George Donohoe) last week.

He made a lot of valid points. Why does no-one put their litter in a bin any more? Or if there is no bin around, why do people not hold onto it until they get home?

It's all to easy to throw rubbish and food on the ground, and then blame the rats when they naturally come out and eat the remains.

More should be done to enforce fines for litter bugs.

Park bridge deserves to stay

SIR – The chap calling himself a 'Vauxhall pensioner' who wants the bridge in Wardown Park to be demolished. Dear me.

The bridge was built in the late 1930s to commemorate the Silver Jubilee of the reign of King George V.

It was the Jubilee Bridge and was painted silver. I am old enough to remember it being built. I would be so disappointed were it to be demolished.

Mrs D Smith,
Turnpike Drive, Luton

Nothing wrong with working

SIR – There seems to be a stigma attached to working for a living, or being working class.

Nobody wants to be called working class. The British are turning into a bunch of snobs.

I am not ashamed of working for a living, or getting my hands dirty.

Working for a living is definitely beneath some people.

I am working class. Society looks down on people like me, as some sort of lower class scum.

Maybe that's why people milk the system and live on benefits.

What's the alternative? Work!

Casino in gamble on new game

BY CARL MUNGAZI
carl.mungazi@lutononsunday.co.uk

A BUSINESSMAN has invented a new casino game set to go live at Grove Casino this Friday.

Patrick McGrath, from Park Town, has created Switch Match, a game in which players try to match the total on their cards with the dealer's total to win.

And customers at the Grove are being offered a 'free play' session worth £100 every night until Friday so they can learn the game.

Each night the winner will be given a bottle of champagne and a £25 voucher to spend on the game once it goes live.

Mr McGrath, who runs casino nights for a living, said he made the game to offer casino customers more excitement and options.

He said: "In this game it's all about the dealer and the players – you don't have to worry about anyone else.

"Other games are about players competing and worrying about each other's hand.

"You are dealt with two cards and each card has a top value and a bottom value that you can use to match the dealer's cards.

"You are not trying to beat the dealer and that's what makes it unique. If you don't match him you lose but if you match him you win. There are no other possibilities."

Mr McGrath said tight regulation and the conservative nature of the casino industry means introducing new games is difficult but he feels he has the experience to push it through.

He added: "At first the game confuses people but they get used to it quickly.

"Anyone can pick the game up because of its depth of play. I have been in the industry since 1986 so I know what works and what doesn't."

What do YOU think?
Email editor@lsnmedia.co.uk

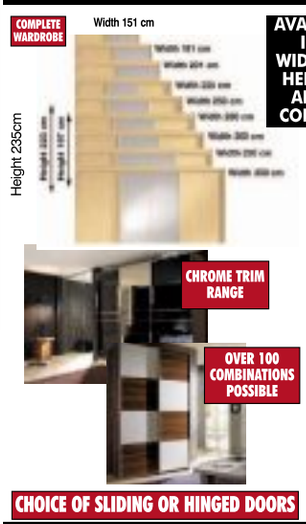

LUCKY NUMBER: Patrick McGrath says he is expecting the game to be a big hit with customers because of its simplicity and depth

Soon Big Brother will be watching you. . .

HOW many of you have heard of the Communications Data Bill? Be afraid, be very afraid.

The Bill, which will be part of the Queen's Speech next month, will allow Government scrutiny of all emails and social media sites, such as Facebook and Twitter.

This is being done for reasons of security, or so we are told.

The proposed legislation obliges internet service providers to keep all records of their customers' online activity for a year. This includes every email, posting on a social networking site, video or phone calls over the internet.

Now I always tell new reporters never to put anything in an email they wouldn't want their boss, a police officer or their mother to see. Some of them have ignored my advice, to realise that not everything I say is total rubbish.

This would be much worse, especially as lots of other public bodies are asking if they can have the power to see these emails etc.

Local councils, health and safety, NHS Trusts, the Environment Agency and fire authorities are among those who have applied to have access to this material.

Would that be down to security or just snooping? Answers on a postcard. There is a part of me that enjoys the whole ridiculousness of Town Hall officers reading my emails and Twitter.

I could tweet that secret council papers are buried in my garden to find it dug over for me one day. Sadly it is not really very funny.

Whether or not you get a job, have an operation or are eligible for Housing Benefits could be determined by an inappropriate Twitter comment, or more likely pictures on Facebook of you lashed with your mates at the weekend.

And remember these powers, should they happen, are from a coalition Government that promised to free us up from state tyranny.

It started as just a story but it looks as though Big Brother will really be watching us.

It just took a bit longer than George Orwell imagined.

I READ of banks, at the height of the casino economy, transferring billions round the world at the click of a button. I wish, having spent more than seven weeks trying to buy a few premium bonds.

As the interest in building societies is currently poor, or virtually non-existent, I decided to transfer some money into premium bonds and have a gamble without risking my stake.

First my building society wanted four weeks notice.

Then they refused to transfer it electronically so I had to get a cheque. Remember them?

My bank no longer has a branch in Bedford or anywhere close, so I had to post it to them, then, of course, wait for it to clear.

When that finally happened, the bank would not let me transfer the money for security reasons, as certain online merchants are blocked.

Finally I eventually get onto the NS&I website to be told that my password is blocked and that they will have to post another one out.

It would have been quicker to hide it under the mattress. And, these days, probably safer.

Full carnival artist line-up confirmed

BY LAUREN ARCHELL
lauren.archell@lutononsunday.co.uk

THE full programme for the Luton International Carnival has been announced by the UK Centre for Carnival Arts.

This year's eclectic line-up of live music features local and international acts including reggae sensation Peter Hunningale, the UK's top touring samba band Rhythms of the City, soca star Scrappy, Afro-jazz from Heritage Survival Band, blistering riffs from rock band Charlie Indestructible and more.

Pax Nindi, artistic director of Luton International Carnival 2013, said: "We are delighted to present such a diverse and high quality music programme for the carnival. The programme takes its inspiration from many cultures from around the world and speaks to all generations.

"All that, plus the parade, makes Luton International Carnival the greatest one day carnival in Europe."

This year the event will take place on Sunday May 26, at Wardown Park and around Luton town centre.

As always, the highlight of the day will be the spectacular carnival parade which leaves Wardown Park at 1:30pm and will wind through the town centre in one breathtaking procession, finishing back at the park.

Themes for this year's carnival include the colours of India, dances from Bolivia, Moulin Rouge and conceptual ideas such as peace and hope.

PERFORMING: The Heritage Survival Band is just one of the many music acts that will play at the Luton International Carnival this year

Hospice provides a range of support

THERE is a misconception that a hospice is only there to help patients in their last few days. Our reporter, LAUREN ARCHELL, speaks to Keech Hospice about the wide range of services and support that it can provide to those who need it most UNDERSTANDABLY, a hospice is a place that many hope that they will never have to visit.

However, if they do, they often find themselves extremely grateful for the care, advice and support that they receive Keech Hospice Care, on Great Braminghame Road in Streatley, cares for adults living in Luton and South Bedfordshire and children from across Bedfordshire, Hertfordshire and Milton Keynes.

The aim is to help patients enjoy the highest quality of life. But this isn't the only objective.

The facility also works to provide support to a patient and their family and friends from diagnosis stages and also with bereavement care.

Louise Merola is the Macmillan Social Work Assistant who is based at Keech Hospice Care. She has been in post ten months and supports Jason Kassemoss, a Palliative Care Social Worker, who is also based at the hospice.

Louise sees up to 20 day care patients a day and up to eight in-patients at any one time.

As part of her role she largely supports the day care patients, allowing Jason to concentrate on the more complex needs of in-patients.

A typical week for Louise is extremely varied.

Every Monday, she supports a drop-in group for carers at Keech Hospice.

This session allows carers access to social work support, complementary therapy, music therapy, pre-bereavement care, and one-to-one emotional support which focuses on wellbeing and managing stress.

Louise also provides an outreach service, which involves visiting patients at home or in the community.

Some patients and carers prefer to be seen and supported at home as they feel more comfortable in their familiar surroundings.

Louise said: "This is a very important service and can be used to find out what the patient, family or carer needs support with.

"Often if you ask they will say 'no, I'm fine'.

"Only when you dig a little deeper over a cup of tea and a chat do you find out they are crawling up the stairs to bed at night or can't manage to wash themselves safely in the shower, or that their greatest concern is something that can be solved practically.

"One patient was moving into an unfurnished flat and had no family or friends nearby to help her buy furniture.

SUPPORT: Louise Merola works at Keech Hospice Care to provide help and advice to both patients and carers

"I took the patient to a local secondhand furniture shop to buy everything she needed for her new home.

"It's practical help like that which you don't think about which makes a difference."

In addition, Louise also encourages patients to apply for benefits like disability living allowance or blue badges.

By helping to fill the necessary paperwork, she is able to relieve pressure on the local Macmillan Welfare Rights Service, as well as helping to make life easier for the patient.

Another part of Louise's role includes making bereavement support calls.

Such calls are scheduled to loved ones and carers around three weeks after death, as this seems to be the right time to talk after the funeral has taken place.

If required, she can then guide people to other services and arrange for a bereavement support volunteer or group support.

For more information about Keech Hospice Care call 01582 492339. The hospice has arranged lots of fundraising events that are taking place this year. To find out more, visit www.keech.org.uk.

Councillors' tribute to 'friend of Farley'

BY LAUREN ARCHELL
lauren.archell@lutononsunday.co.uk

POLITICAL parties put their differences aside to collectively pay tribute to former Labour councillor Larry McCowen who died last month.

Mr McCowen was elected in 1983 as a Farley Ward councillor in Luton and went on to serve for 20 years until 2003.

He was vice-chair of the housing committee for ten years and a long-standing member of public works, environment and airport committees.

At the Luton Borough Council meeting on Tuesday, representatives from Labour, Conservative and the Liberal Democrats, each paid tribute to the well-known and respected Labour councillor for his work locally.

Deputy leader of the council Sian Timoney led the tributes saying: "Larry was a union activist at Ellis and Goldstein when he used to work.

"His passion was social housing. He opposed the sale of council houses and sat on the housing committee on the council for many years.

TRIBUTES: Larry McCowen

"Everyone in Farley knew him, and he picked up enquiries on the bus, at shops and whenever people needed him.

"He was a real socialist and a friend to all, even the opposition.

"He served at the same time as my father in Farley, where they were very affectionately known as the 'Farley mafia'. Larry will be sorely missed."

Conservative leader, Michael Garrett, said: "Larry was such a character.

"There were many times we had disagreements, but we always ended up shaking hands.

"He would do anything to promote the wellbeing of residents in Farley and residents of this council as a whole.

"My sincere condolences go to the family of Larry."

Lib Dem councillor, Peter Chapman, said: "I must add to the sentiments that have already been expressed here.

"Residents have always said, as far as Farley is concerned, Larry is our friend.

"This is a fitting tribute to him.

"We may have disagreed politically, but I held much respect for him as a councillor."

World facing a future of possibility and risk

BY CARL MUNGAZI
carl.mungazi@lutononsunday.co.uk

HUMANITY is facing a world full of risk and opportunity, one of the world's leading sociologists stated during a visit to Luton.

Labour peer Lord Anthony Giddens, pictured, a former advisor to Tony Blair, said 'many aspects of our life have become like science fiction', with Armageddon a real possibility.

During a talk at the University of Bedfordshire, the widely referenced academic spoke about his predictions of mankind's future.

He said: "I want to suggest that we live in a high risk, high opportunity society.

"We live in a world capable of destroying itself. What we must not do is refuse the reality of risk.

"That's what many of us are doing and what most of the world is doing."

Lord Giddens also suggested that sociologists had to rethink their entire area of study.

He added: "Social scientists are going to have to tread a path in a world where the boundaries have shifted so dramatically.

"We may have to reassess the whole area of social science."

Initiative to help stop cycle theft launched

BY LAUREN ARCHELL
lauren.archell@lutononsunday.co.uk

TRAIN operator First Capital Connect (FCC) and British Transport Police have joined forces to drive down cycle crime.

On Thursday free locks were handed out and bikes identity-stamped at Luton station.

The initiative was introduced after cycle crime took a turn for the worse, with more bike offences between April and October than the entire previous year.

However, a concerted effort saw a serial bike thief arrested which, coupled with an awareness campaign, has halved the rate again.

To reduce crime further, FCC will be installing extra CCTV cameras to cover the bike racks.

SECURE: Officers show how to lock your bike safely

Sergeant Steven Donovan said: "There are steps people can take.

"Register your bike and use two locks to secure the frame and the wheels to the stand."

Gang attack leaves man with fractured jaw

A 25-YEAR-OLD needed hospital treatment following a 'violent assault' and robbery.

The man was walking along Waldeck Road, Luton, on Sunday, April 14, at around 6.45am, when he passed three people – two men and a woman.

He was approached by the group twice and was asked for change.

When he refused, one of the group asked to use his mobile phone.

Again he refused but agreed to make a call for them.

As he dialled a number, he was punched by the two men and tried to gouge his eyes.

They then snatched the victim's phone and fled towards Brook Street.

Detective Constable Dave Brecknock said: "This was an extremely violent assault. I'd urge anyone who saw the trio to contact us."

Anyone with information should call 101.

INSPIRATION: Kevin Williams is dedicated to helping the town

Top tenant's hard work is recognised

A RESIDENT from Luton has been shortlisted for the Young Tenant of the Year at the 2013 TPAS Awards.

Kevin Williams, who lives at Hilltop Court, was nominated by Aldwyck Housing Group for his commitment to the community.

He has helped to facilitate a weekly youth club, assisted at youth football sessions and supported the adult employment programme.

Harj Singh, chief executive of Aldwyck Housing Group, said: "It's a privilege to have been able to support Kevin in his local community, which is now a happier place to live."

Residents urged to report adult abuse

BY LAUREN ARCHELL
lauren.archell@lutononsunday.co.uk

A NEW campaign has been launched to encourage people to report incidents of adult abuse that they see or suspect.

The aim of the scheme, which has been launched by the Luton Safeguarding Adults Board (LSAB), is to get the message across that everyone has a responsibility when it comes to protecting and safeguarding adults who are, or might be, at risk.

Any adult can suffer abuse, however those most at risk include people who receive community care services and those unable to protect themselves from harm.

A leaflet has been produced as part of the campaign that gives examples of various types of abuse and the ways that people can report it. It can take a number of forms including physical, sexual, financial, psychological or neglect.

Professor Michael Preston-Shoot, independent chairman of LSAB, said: "Everyone has the right to live their lives free from violence, fear and abuse.

"As a board we take all allegations very seriously and ensure that they are dealt with appropriately and in a timely fashion.

"It's not always easy for someone to recognise that they are being abused by someone they trust or indeed to make the decision to report. We all need to be vigilant and support people to recognise abuse."

To report abuse contact Luton Borough Council's Adult Safeguarding team on 01582 547730.

Shut your eyes and it's like you're listening to Dolly!

MUSIC

The Grove Theatre
Friday May 10, 7.30pm

THE Dolly Parton Story is a two-hour journey through the amazing career of one of country music's most successful singers.

Her career has spanned more than 50 years and her most celebrated material features in this show, from early country classics such as 'Coat of Many Colours' and 'Joshua', through to the later smash hits like 'Jolene', 'Islands in the Stream', 'I Will Always Love You' and '9 to 5'.

The show stars Andrea Pattison, a professional singer for many years who has often drawn comments on her similarity in sound and style to Dolly Parton.

As a life-long fan of Dolly's, Andrea always took this as a huge compliment. Then she decided to harness that aspect of her talent to reach a wider audience.

Now in its fourth year, this great show has built up a following around the UK and will be venturing further in the near future.

With a full live band providing the sound and an array of amazing, rhinestone-encrusted replica costumes, this is a treat for any Dolly Parton fan.

As well as celebrating the life and music of Dolly Parton, Andrea will incorporate her own experiences and music into the performance.

Andrea's first album of original songs 'Stormy's Daughter' was recently released and one of the songs will feature in the stage show.

Dolly's influence on Andrea's writing and singing is obvious throughout the album, but especially evident on the bluegrass track 'Nobody's Baby' – a heartfelt recollection of her less than idyllic early life in Sunderland.

Previous reviews include comments by Dave Walker, from Cross Country magazine, who said: "The musicians did a great job and the audience didn't want the show to end. We had three encores before Andrea left to tremendous applause."

Iain Gordon, the Glasgow Pavilion Theatre manager, said: "To call this a tribute show would be an injustice. It is much more than that, shut your eyes and it was Dolly!"

Tickets are £17.50 and you can book by calling the box office on 01582 602080 or you can buy online at www.grovetheatre.co.uk.

Dancer Khamlane Halsackda stars in two part show

DANCE

The Hat Factory
Thursday, 7.30pm

ACCLAIMED contemporary dancer Khamlane Halsackda brings a two part show to The Hat factory on Thursday.

The performance begins with his autobiographical solo 'Single Act', a 20-minute piece revisiting the first time he fell in love.

By re-enacting this period in his life and then recalling memories from his childhood, he explores what love is to him, and perhaps to each of us.

This performance is a solo originally choreographed in 2010 which has since toured in the UK, Sweden, India and Brazil.

The second part of the show, 'Yellow Card' is a duet looking at the East Asian image.

A collaboration with Japanese dancer Rumiko Otsuka and composer Edel Griffith, it is the sequel to 'Single Act' and looks at the contradiction that is the East Asian image.

Since 2006 Halsackda has been creating his own work, a blend of mixed media dance and theatre.

His work at this time is largely biographical and focuses mainly on issues of identity, and re-establishing a cultural connection to his native homeland.

The work also explores how this relates to the experiences he has had growing up in the west.

Tickets cost £10, with concessions at £8. Call 01582 547474 for bookings.

Summer film previews

CINEMA

Various Cinemas
Various dates

THIS week our film critic Gavin Miller previews the latest releases.

IRON MAN 3 (pictured): Okay, I know it's a bit of cop-out to plug this latest helping from the Marvel superhero canon – but it is undoubtedly going to be one of the biggest movies (if not THE biggest) of the summer.

Tony Stark/Iron Man is having a rough time unwinding after the Avengers Assemble events of New York, and his world is about to be turned upside-down – and reportedly quite literally destroyed – by formidable terrorist, The Mandarin (Ben Kingsley).

Gwyneth Paltrow and Don Cheadle return – yes, War Machine is back – with ex-Neighbours star Guy Pearce debuting as evil scientist Aldrich Killian.

Whether rumours of a link to the next Marvel franchise Guardians of the Galaxy get ironed out remains to be seen – but one thing's for sure, there's no stopping this superhero juggernaut...

Release Date: April 25

OLYMPUS HAS FALLEN: There's been some decent early reviews for this action thriller which sees Gerard Butler star as a disgraced former presidential guard, who finds himself trapped inside the White House in the wake of a terrorist attack – then attempt to rescue the president (Aaron Eckhart) from his captors, in this movie from the director of Training Day. Co-stars Morgan Freeman.

Release date: April 17

EVIL DEAD: The team behind the original Evil Dead – including Sam Raimi and Bruce Campbell – are back to oversee this highly-anticipated remake of the 1981 cult horror.

When five friends discover a book of the dead in a remote cabin, they unwittingly summon soul-possessing demons from the nearby woods, in this reportedly scary and gore-filled re-imagining – which is also garnering promising early buzz.

Release Date: April 19

Motorbodies celebrates arrival of new Vauxhall soft-top

Despite the recent dreary weather, a brand new ray of sunshine has arrived in the showroom of local Vauxhall retailer, Motorbodies.

An all-new convertible, the Cascada, is now on display at the dealership in Luton and local motorists are being invited to explore and test-drive the new four-seater model, which is set to revitalise the full-size convertible market.

Staff and customers alike are celebrating the arrival of this seamless and sophisticated soft-top at the dealership , Motorbodies , Kimpton Road Luton , LU2 0TB

A soft-top for all seasons

Competitively priced from £23,995 on the road - nearly £8,000 less than the smaller Audi A5 Cabriolet - the C-sector Cascada offers an exhilarating and comfortable ride whatever the weather.

With its multi layered fabric roof, which opens in just 17 seconds at speeds of up to 30mph, the model is ideally suited to travel all year round, from cosy winter journeys to top-down coastal cruising.

The new model is available in two trims: SE and Elite. The entry level SE boasts 18" alloy wheels, a sports chassis, LED tail lamps and aux-in/USB, all as standard. And in addition the Elite model comes with leather trim, heated front seats and steering wheel, front fog lamps, windbreak and dual zone climate control.

What's more, the Cascada is available in ten colours and can be ordered with solid, two-coat metallic or two-coat pearlescent paint, as well as a choice of three roof colours, depending on exterior colour.

Built with style, power and performance in mind

Cascada owners can enjoy its spacious cabin space and high-quality materials, with a wealth of well-equipped functionality and handcrafted features not found in any other Vauxhall.

The Cascada also brings together all Vauxhall's latest, innovative technology and includes options such as Adaptive Forward Lighting (AFL) and a front and rear view camera system.

Meanwhile, on the exterior, the weather- and car-wash-proof fabric roof comes in an acoustic soft top option to offer increased noise reduction and thermal comfort, whilst other personalisation options include six different alloy wheel choices with sizes up to 20-inch.

The new vehicle, which can be ordered from Motorbodies now, also boasts a broad range of powerful and efficient engines as well as new six-speed manual and automatic transmissions. Starting the line-up is a 1.4-litre (140PS) Turbo petrol with a manual gearbox and a 2.0-litre (165PS) diesel engine with manual and automatic transmissions, both with start/stop technology.

But the highlight of Cascada's powertrain line-up is the all-new 1.6 SIDI Turbo ECOTEC petrol engine, which will be available shortly after launch.

Affordable luxury

To make purchasing a brand new Cascada even easier, customers at Motorbodies have the option to drive away at a monthly payment to suit their budget, thanks to Vauxhall's innovative zero per cent APR Flexible Finance scheme*.

With zero per cent APR Representative, no minimum deposit and a payment term varying between 24 to 60 months*, Flexible Finance makes it easy for motorists to buy their chosen vehicle at a cost that suits them. This means that motorists could, for example, take to the road in a Cascada SE 1.4 (140PS) Start / Stop for just £279 a month for 60 months, with a £7,255 customer deposit.

And like all new Vauxhalls, the Cascada comes with a warranty which could now last a lifetime, so customers can be confident that they are getting the best possible aftercare and service, too. Available to the first owner of all new Vauxhall cars, the warranty is valid for the lifetime of the vehicle up to a maximum of 100,000 miles For more information on the Cascada pop into Motorbodies, Luton.

Official Government Test Environmental Data. Fuel consumption figures mpg (litres/100km) and CO2 emissions (g/km). Vauxhall range: Urban: 14.4 (19.6) - 67.3 (4.2), Extra-urban: 27.4 (10.3) - 91.1 (3.1), Combined: 20.6 (13.7) - 80.7 (3.5). CO2 emissions: 324 - 94g/km.

Offers available to Vauxhall Partners only. All other customers are excluded. Offer available on orders or registrations before 1st April 2013. Not a Gray away day as Andre's double wins it

LUTON TOWN

BY TOM SHARP
sport@lsnmedia.co.uk

BLUE SQUARE PREMIER
SOUTHPORT 1
LUTON TOWN 3

A DAY out at the seaside in the mid-April sunshine was the scene, and despite a sluggish start Luton brought the curtain down on the Blue Square Bet Premier season with a comfortable 3-1 victory to cement a seventh place finish.

Andre Gray signed off as Town top scorer with his 19th and 20th of the campaign after Matt Robinson had levelled for the Hatters.

There were goals, action and woeful finishing and the only thing missing was supporters' fancy dress.

This dead rubber at the MerseyRail Community Stadium could have slipped into the Blue Square Bet Premier archives as a drab affair to mark the final game of Southport boss Liam Watson's 334-game tenure at Haig Avenue. However, his leaving party began in style and barely let up in an eventful opening half.

The Sandgrounders boasted the leakiest home defence in the league prior to this clash, having conceded 41 goals, but within just one minute it was them providing the first addition to the scoresheet.

Winger Chris Almond bounded down the right touchline and delivered a deliciously-weighted cross for Sean Clancy to head beyond Mark Tyler for the opener.

Town's response was purposeful as Gray almost added to his 18-goal tally with a low ninth-minute effort but was denied on the line by former Luton loanee Godfrey Poku, while Dave Martin had shouts for a penalty waved away after the ball had appeared to strike the arm of midfielder Alan Moogan inside the Southport box.

Luton have mustered just seven wins away from Kenilworth Road all season, but despite their early setback they battled back into the game and after determined pressure they found a quick-fire double to Southport's early sucker-punch.

First, Robinson latched on to a loose ball to coast into the hosts' area and delicately side-foot beyond Zac Hibbert on the half hour.

Just four minutes later, the Hatters had turned the game on its head.

Gray evaded the offside trap to spin and volley left-footed past the helpless Hibbert. No more than the Hatters deserved after a less than ideal start and their real moment of panic before the half-time whistle came as Steven Tames embarrassingly missed a routine six-yard header.

A disastrous first-half opening was almost mirrored with a similarly poor start to the second half as Andy Owens twice blazed over from close range in quick succession.

Town defeated the home side 3-1 back in late September thanks to a Scott Rendell brace and another from Stuart Fleetwood and as time ticked away it was to be the story again to bring a close to an up-and-down Hatters season.

Gray's performances throughout this campaign have often been the shining light for Luton and so it proved once more as he raced in to clip in Town's third and seal the win.

At the start of the day Town could have finished as low as eleventh but in the end a top seven finish added a gloss to a transitional season.

FOOTBALL

Town foiled by late goal

DUNSTABLE Town remain unbeaten after an entertaining 3-3 draw at Haringey Borough in the Spartan South Midlands Premier Division.

Despite early Dunstable pressure, Haringey took a 2-0 lead through Dean Fenton and Anthony McDonald but Lee Roache pulled a goal back before half-time with his 54th of the season.

Nathan Frater equalised on 54 minutes with a fine strike and Tony Burnett gave Dunstable a 3-2 lead with a header on 64 minutes.

Haringey were always dangerous from set-pieces and grabbed a deserved point when Dmitri Strattis fired in a free-kick with just two minutes remaining.

Dunstable will be presented with the Championship Shield at Creasey Park next Saturday before their final game of the season against Hatfield Town.

AFC DUNSTABLE grabbed their first win in four games in emphatic fashion, beating the unfortunate Leverstock Green 6-2.

AFC raced into a five-goal lead within half an hour, with Stefan Tracey and Dale Turney each grabbing two goals in a comprehensive victory.

BARTON ROVERS conceded a last-minute equaliser in a 1-1 draw with Chalfont St Peter and remain 14th in the Evo-Stik Central Division.

Bilal Hasan gave Rovers the lead with seven minutes to go but an injury time wonder strike from Joel Hughes earned a point for the visitors, who lie just one place behind Barton in the table.

Luton just edged out

RUGBY UNION

BY TIM BARTLETT

LUTON were narrowly beaten 35-33 at Newlands yesterday, as a determined Colchester managed three tries in the second half in a fifteen minute period that ultimately decided the game.

First half tries from Steven Ellis, Adam Harris and two from Tesh Edwards set up a 26-14 lead for the Lutonians, but the visitors reacted well in the second period.

A late Ellis try set up a tight finale, but it wasn't enough for the points.

STOCKWOOD PARK brought the curtain down on their season in style with the destruction of Northampton Casuals, 62-8 at home.

"It shows how far we've come this season," said Stockwood's number eight Eric Butler. "Things just clicked, next season we hope to carry on where we left off."

There were tries from Jamie Newell, Casey Waterfield, James Peddar and Butler, with Alex Lovell and Casmir Akaba weighing in, and six conversions from Jason Carr as the home side ran riot.

"We lost against these 36-10 earlier in the season," said Waterfield.

DUNSTABLIANS were narrowly beaten 21-19 at home to Wellingborough.

"It was frustrating, we played well in patches," said Dees prop Simon George. "But we did outscore them three tries to two."

Jordan Warner, Duncan Holmes and Stuart Hall went over for the Dees, and there were points from the boot of John White.

Four told: We don't need you any more

LUTON TOWN

BY DAN PALMER
sport@lsnmedia.co.uk

HATTERS boss John Still has wielded the axe further by telling four more players they won't be required at Kenilworth Road next year.

Forward Scott Rendell, defensive pair Lathaniel Rowe-Turner and Simon Ainge, and keeper Dean Brill were told that they had no future at the club after Thursday night's victory over Ebbsfleet United.

The quartet were all placed on the transfer list.

Still has not finished in his role as hatchet man, promising more exits in the coming days to leave remaining members of the squad wondering about their future.

Striker Rendell's listing comes just weeks after he scored the winning goal in Luton's famous FA Cup scalping of Premier League Norwich City in January.

Still has made no secret of the fact that everyone in his squad was playing for their Luton future, and the listed four have clearly not done enough to impress.

"We've made four of the squad available for transfer because in our current situation we'd like to bring some more players in," said Still.

"It's unfortunate, but, in the short time I've been here, I've had to assess what we need.

"I think it is in the best interests of both the club and the players involved to find somewhere new. I wouldn't want these players to stay here and stand still.

"All four have been model professionals. They have all trained extremely hard and given the club everything since I've been here. I have nothing but the utmost respect for each and every one.

"However, I do feel we have to make these changes. It is difficult but you have to make tough decisions in football."

Still will now take time pondering the next set of cuts.

"I am still thinking through one or two further decisions, but I don't envisage anything happening for a week or two," he said.

FAREWELL: Luton players applaud Kenilworth Road after Thursday's final home game of the season against Ebbsfleet. It promises to be a very different side next season.

Bish, bash, bosh! Reynolds' delight at ten second KO

LUTON boxer Jordan Reynolds was left 'buzzing' after sensationally knocking out an opponent less than ten seconds into the first round of a fight.

The 18-year-old floored the unfortunate Conner Atkins just moments after the bell with a devastating body shot.

"When I came out I was nice and relaxed and not looking for a KO," West Ham ABC fighter Reynolds said.

"But then I just hit him with a left hook to the body and that was it, he was out.

"I am quite well known for my body shots though. It made me feel like a pro but it's embarrassing for him."

The bout, a quarter final clash in the junior ABAs, was so swift that afterwards someone was heard to shout "Can you do that again? I missed it".

Reynolds, who grew up in Luton but fights out of the London club, won his first national title in December in the 63-66kg Welterweight section.
